

A realistic approach to the question "Where do we go now in the Millwood Dam controversy?" is taken in a Texarkana Gazette editorial today.

By way of introducing the Texarkana piece this writer wishes to point out he was the first to anticipate that any objection to Millwood's construction from potential industries to be located upstream had to stem from the quaint but now discredited notion that a factory has the right to pollute a river with complete disregard for the folks downstream.

This is a question on which The Star's editor is fully posted. In many editorials during the decade of debate over Millwood we have pointed out that while the rivers of the North and East were polluted at the start of America's industrial development such pollution now is forbidden — and harsh steps are being taken today to clean up infected rivers.

The fact is, all informed men recognize that no industry operating for private profit has the right to ruin a river for everyone else — short as we are of water. We have awakened to the fact that the total supply of water is a fixed quantity, like the total supply of oil. And just as we are learning to conserve oil with scientific public regulation so are enlightened states protecting the public water supply by forbidding pollution.

Our is a remote section. But it is not The Star's intention to let selfish interests ruin a great water resource simply because our people aren't well enough informed to halt cannibalization before it starts.

I imagine there is a similar thought behind the Texarkana Gazette editorial this morning. The Gazette would call upon outside experts to study the facts about industry versus Millwood and give an unbiased report. Here is the Texarkana editorial:

Let's Settle the Millwood Argument (Texarkana Gazette)

Although the decision of the Board of Rivers and Harbors for a "wet" Millwood may be interpreted as a victory for the Southwestern Arkansas Water District, there is still a mountainous argument that must be settled before much progress can be made toward the building of Millwood and the upstream dams.

That argument is basic to the whole proposition and must be resolved if progress is to be made. The argument has to do with water-using industries. The downstream interests say that a reservoir at Millwood is the answer to an industrial prayer.

But the upstream interest say that no industries will locate in the area unless they can use Little River to carry away the waste from their manufacturing processes. They say the running stream will clear itself of pollution but if a reservoir is built, there will be no way for the industries to dispose of their waste.

Why can't we get this argument settled one way or the other by calling in some people who know something about water-using industries. Ask them the question: Will a reservoir nullify upstream industries and if so, why?

We believe if this argument is settled, there will be much easier sailing in Congress. If Senator Kerr is satisfied that Oklahoma will get a square deal in the matter, we can expect the project to be expedited.

Fight on to Prevent Cut in Foreign Aid

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today sought to stave off new Senate efforts to cut the 4½-billion-dollar foreign aid authorization bill after winning every test in the opening day of voting.

Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) announced the Senate would run again into a late night session if necessary to pass the big measure and send it into conference with the House. If work on its is not completed by tonight, he promised a Saturday session.

The Senate worked more than 11 hours yesterday on the measure tagged by President Eisenhower as of major importance to free world strength and security. It handed him important triumphs on these four votes:

1. A 58-27 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Long (D-La.) to cut the bill to $2,750,000,000 the sum Congress appropriated last year.

2. A 50-38 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, to cut off all aid to Yugoslavia.

3. A 45-43 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Young (R-ND) to clamp import quotas on textiles and farm products in surplus in this country.

Steel Industry Strike Appears to Be Inevitable

By HUGH MULLIGAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Fires blazed out in the nation's steel furnaces today as negotiators battled against a strike deadline of midnight tomorrow.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers of America awaited industry's answer to his suggestion that top company officials join the deadlocked talks to avert a strike of 650,000 steelworkers.

As gradual cooling-off operations set in to prevent damage to the giant steel furnaces, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell announced that the government had no immediate plan of invoking the Taft-Hartley Act to prevent a shutdown.

It is estimated that the cooling-off process, which takes about three days, plus an even longer time for rekindling the fires if a sudden settlement is reached, will cost the industry 500 tons of steel production valued at 65 million dollars.

The union's 32-member Executive Board meets today to consider the situation.

The Wage Policy Committee, with 170 rank-and-file members, meets three hours later to hear McDonald report on the status of the bargaining. It has the power to approve or reject any agreement reached by negotiators.

McDonald's invitation to the presidents of the 12 major companies to join the talks came in reply to a television address last night by Adm. Ben Moreel, chairman of the Jones and Laughlin Corp.

Even with time running out and the fires going down, "reasonable men can always settle honest differences," said Moreel, speaking in behalf of the industry.

Moreel denied a union charge that the companies were conspiring to force a lockout in face of the union's traditional "no contract, no work" policy.

"That charge is not true," he said. "The steel companies of America exist to produce steel — no idle."

McDonald said it was the companies that were "shutting their property down — no steelworkers out."

Arkansas Senators Split on Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas senators split yesterday on two defeated amendments to the foreign aid bill.

Sen. Fulbright voted with the majority in rejecting both amendments in rejecting both amendments.

Rita Hayworth Suffers Stage Fright During Filming of Her First Picture in Three Years

By HAL BOYLE
TOBAGO, B. W. I. (AP) — Can you imagine Rita Hayworth suffering from stage fright?

Well, you don't have to imagine it. It's true.

The sultry redhead, hitting the comeback trail after nearly a three-year absence from the screen, said she felt very nervous her first few days before the camera.

"I actually had stage fright for about a week — and this after making about 80 or 90 pictures," she said.

"It seemed like a new career, as if I were starting all over again."

Rita hasn't been exactly idle during her long layoff. During that period she shed crooner Dick

Wilson Warns of 'Excessive' U. S. Military Power

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson cautioned critical senators today against insisting upon "excessive" U. S. military strength.

"Our objective is to deter war by every honorable means. It is not our objective to overarm or to give any country cause for alarm," he said.

Of this country's military strength now and for the future Wilson said it is "a dynamic military power of true substance."

"We do not need or wish to flaunt it before the world," he added, "but it would be a serious disservice to our country and the morale of the free world to belittle it."

Wilson prepared his testimony for a public hearing by the Senate Armed Services subcommittee which has been looking into the relative strength of U. S. and Russian air power.

The white-haired Cabinet officer made no direct reference to the extra billion dollars which the Senate voted this week to provide more funds for the Air Force than the Eisenhower administration had requested.

Nor did he take any note of the storm that arose after he used the word "phony" in talking of the increase. But he said in his 2,400-word prepared testimony:

"We deplore efforts to belittle the capacity and resolve of his government to be prepared to meet any recognized threat."

Wilson came to the meeting under instructions from the President to "lay it on the line" in discussing the military budget.

Wilson had a half-hour talk with Eisenhower yesterday at Walter Reed Hospital. He declined to talk about the meeting, but press secretary James C. Hagerty said Wilson had outlined his proposed testimony to the senators, and that the President had told Wilson to "lay it on the line."

AP&L Asks Approval of Huge Loan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Power & Light Co., yesterday asked the Public Service Commission to approve arrangements made with the Hanover Bank of New York for an eight million dollar loan.

The loan will be used to make a refund to AP&L's 275,000 customers. The refund, consisting of charges collected under bond, was ordered after the utility lost its bid for higher rates.

AP&L said it would file an application with the federal Securities and Exchange Commission next week. The SEC also must approve of the loan.

Teachers Say Parents Are to Blame

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — School teachers replying to a nationwide survey let fly at parents today as mostly to blame for a list of student misdeeds ranging from drinking to profanity, cheating and impudence.

The teachers, quizzed by the National Education Association, said they believed student drinking had "definitely increased" in the past 10 years, along with classroom insolence and failure to carry out assignments.

Almost all of them, however, made it clear they think most American children are all right. A trifle over 5 per cent said their students this past year were "often" or "almost always" difficult to handle. The rest said they were either "exceptionally" or "reasonably" well behaved.

More than 90 per cent said conditions are not so bad as portrayed by press, movies and radio.

It was when they came to reasons for such misbehavior as they found that the teachers tore into parents.

Among 17 reasons which the NEA asked them to rank in importance, the largest percentages gave first place to these three: irresponsible parents, unsatisfactory home conditions, low income, broken families, etc., and lack of supervision because mother working.

Much smaller percentages blamed television and movies, automobiles, undesirable handouts near school and lack of teacher authority to punish offenders.

More important than any of this, in the teachers' opinion, were lack of special classes for retarded children and overcrowding of schoolrooms in general. Replies indicated that misbehavior is likely to double when a class goes from 30 to 40.

Flood Control Measure to White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — An appropriation of $62,791,000 for flood control work on the lower Mississippi River and its tributaries is provided in the Public Works Appropriation Bill which Congress has sent to the White House.

President Eisenhower is expected to sign the bill shortly. Funds will be available in the year starting July 1.

The money is to be used on some 29 projects in the area. The amount in the final bill was the money voted by the Senate on recommendation of Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who was chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee handling the legislation. The House earlier had voted $58,030,000 for the work but took the Senate figure in trafficking a compromise measure.

Of the total, $47,045,000 is for construction work, $15,000,000 for maintenance, $840,000 for general investigations and $100,000 for advance planning.

Funds are to be allocated for these projects:
Construction — Mississippi River levees, $2,250,000; channel improvement, $21,500,000; Memphis harbor, $1,000,000; Old River Control structure, $7,700,000; St. Francis Basin $3,250,000 Lower White River $350,000; Redfoot Lake Tenn., $325,000; lower Arkansas River, $700,000; Bocauf and Tensas rivers, $1,400,000; Red River backwater area, $100,000; Arkabutla reservoir $10,000.

Traffic Death Toll Climbs

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll continued to climb last month with a record 3,170 traffic fatalities.

The National Safety Council said this brought the toll for the first five months of 1956 to 14,720 — a 9 per cent increase over the corresponding period of last year — and a new record.

May was the 15th straight month that traffic deaths showed an increase in comparison to corresponding months of the previous year.

Safety officials expressed concern that deaths on the highways were occurring at a faster rate than the increase in travel.

Ike to Step Up Physical Activity

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to step up his physical activity a bit today prearranging to check out of Walter Reed Hospital tomorrow.

James C. Hagerty, press secretary, said the President probably would go up and down stairs some today during his day. That would prepare him for descent of about a half-dozen steps when he leaves the hospital.

Hagerty said Eisenhower would come from his third-floor presidential suite to the main floor by elevator, but would walk down the few steps outdoors.

The plan still is for Eisenhower to go from the hospital to his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., for further convalescence.

Asked about reports that Eisenhower might leave the hospital today rather than tomorrow, and that the departure would not be announced in advance, Hagerty smiled and said new men:

"You ought to know me better than that."

McClellan Boomed as Favorite Son

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan would be honored as Arkansas' favorite son candidate for the Democratic nomination for president if a movement started by state Sen. E. J. Byrd of Camden is successful.

Sen. Byrd, an 80-year-old physician, has obtained the signatures of a group of his colleagues in the state Senate — he wouldn't say how many — to a petition asking for support of McClellan at the national party convention at Chicago in August.

The petition is addressed to the still-unselected and delegation and to Gov. Orval Faubus, and it is probable that the governor will be the man who decides.

LONDON. — (UP) — A report on a detailed study by a team of eminent doctors gave cautious support today to a mother's claim she bore a fatherless child in a virgin birth.

The report did not substantiate the claim. But it said the doctors could not disprove it through the series of exhaustive tests they made on the mother and her 11-year-old daughter.

The report, written for the authoritative medical journal "The Lancet," was signed by Dr. Stanley Balfour-Lynn, an obstetrician. As resident medical officer at Queen Charlotte's hospital, one of London's foremost maternity hospitals, he headed the investigation.

"We have found nothing in this child that could have come from anyone but the mother," he wrote.

"All evidence obtained from serological (dealing with serums) and special tests is consistent with what would be expected in a case of parthenogenesis (reproduction by the development of an unfertilized egg.)"

"This patient's claim must not only be considered seriously but it must be admitted that we have been unable to disprove it."

The "patient" is Mrs. Emmeline Jones, 30. She married her present husband nine years ago, two years after the birth of her daughter, Monica.

Their case was unearthed by the London Sunday Pictorial's campaign several months ago to find out how many women in Britain claimed "virgin births."

The newspaper narrowed the field down to 19 women and asked Dr. Balfour-Lynn to head a team of doctors to investigate.

Eleven were eliminated at a preliminary interview. Seven more were eliminated through tests which showed differences in blood types or the color of the eyes of mother and child.

Besides identical physical features, even to the spacing of their teeth, the doctors found saliva, blood and taste tests matched the pair perfectly.

The report said the probability of so good an agreement between a mother and a daughter, if the daughter had a father, "is less than one in 780."

Warsaw Reds Claim Uprising Was Crushed

BERLIN (AP) — A bitter workers' uprising in the major Polish city of Poznan took 8 lives and left 270 wounded, Warsaw's Communist government announced today.

The revolt has been crushed and today the industrial city was reported back to normal.

In the West diplomats speculated what the effect would be on the Kremlin leaders' campaign to downgrade Stalin and ease the steel glove grip on the Soviet's satellite subjects.

The trouble exploded with a fury which recalled the uprising of East Germans of June 7, 1953, and the pro-Stalin student demonstrations in Tiflis this year when up to 100 persons were reported killed.

Western businessmen in Poznan to attend a big trade fair in the industrial city of 300,000 were amazed eyewitnesses to the violent outburst that began at 7 a. m. and evidently continued all day yesterday.

Solid lines of marchers 20 abreast, waving banners demanding "bread" swarmed through the streets, captured and burned secret police headquarters, liberated prisoners, attacked Communist party headquarters, destroyed the jamming station that interferes with Western broadcasts. They raised a white flag over City Hall.

Businessmen told of tanks rolling through the streets of Poznan, blasting at the rioting workers, jet fighters winging overhead and of a tight curfew clamped on the city by Polish authorities.

In some instances, it was reported, troops and police failed to take action against the demonstrators and even gave up their arms to them. Some of the marchers, armed, returned the fire of troops. They succeeded at one time in capturing some of the tanks.

Negro Lawman Is Against Amendment

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dawson (D-Ill.), one of three Negro Democrats in the House, said today he will fight inclusion of an anti-segregation amendment in the embattled $1,600,000,000 school construction bill.

As the House plunged into another day of debate over the big federal aid measure, House leaders said a final vote is unlikely before next Thursday. It will be Monday before preliminary voting starts.

Dawson said in an interview he will oppose a racial integration rider to be offered by Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.), his Negro colleague, because "federal aid to education is needed now."

Inclusion of the Powell amendment will kill the bill, Dawson said, and added:

"I hate to see an issue (segregation) as vital as this used as a cat's-paw to kill the bill."

Democratic leaders were reported to be cracking the party whip in a determined effort to keep Powell's amendment out of the bill. With it, they contend, the bill has no chance of escaping a death-dealing Southern filibuster in the Senate.

Powell was sticking with his plans to offer the amendment anyway.

$48 Millions for Cancer Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has appropriated a whopping $48½ million dollars for cancer research during the coming year in a money bill sent to the White House.

The compromise bill provides $2,366,380,781 to finance the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the fiscal year starting Sunday. The House and Senate each approved the measure by voice vote.

The total compares with $2,563,853,400 asked by President Eisenhower for the agencies.

Biggest increase voted by the Senate was in funds for the National Cancer Institute. For it, the final version of the bill carried $48,432,000 or 14 million more than the House had voted.

Burl Ives Is a Backer of 'Rock 'n Roll'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —The much-maligned rock and roll music finds another booster from an unexpected source—balladeer turned actor Burl Ives.

When the guy even likes Elvis Presley!

Big Burl is no small potatoes as a musical observer. More than anyone else, he brought the American ballad back to immense popularity, and his knowledge of our country's music goes back hundreds of years. That's one of the reasons he likes RSRM.

"There's nothing new about it," he said. "It's just a new sound. I was dancing to when I was in college in 1927. In later years, the stuff was put out under the title of 'rhythm'."

"I've got about 50 of the new rock and roll records and I play them all the time. A lot of people are knocking this Elvis Presley guy. Why, I think he's all right. Of course, I just know him from his records; I've never seen the bumps and grinds he does."

"I've got a theory about why rock and roll is so popular with the young kids. For years, the top vocalists have been making records with musical backgrounds that have gotten more and more refined. You listen to a Dinah Shore or a Bing Crosby and you hear an accompaniment that is darn near perfect."

"The human quality has gone out of the records, and therefore the young peoples lost identification with them. When rock and roll came along, it appealed to them because it wasn't perfect. The music was noisy and loud and often off-key, especially with the saxophones."

"The singers were also unpolished, and they often stood back from the microphone and shouted, instead of murmuring into it."

"And there was another thing about the records—usually they had a beat, and a good, solid one."

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

When Jesus gave the commission to His disciples to go and make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:18-20), all that He had represented to a small Palestinian group as their longed-for Messiah, teacher and leader, became a challenge to a world Savior. He became the founder, in a sense, of a new religion centered in Him, in His teaching and in the Gospel that He had declared—a Gospel set forth concretely in the parables of lost things in Luke 15.

In what sense the religion that He sent forth His followers to proclaim was actually new might well be debatable. Its seeds and roots were in Judaism, and Jesus Himself declared that He had not come to destroy, but to fulfill. The fact that Judaism has continued as a world religion, repudiating the suggestion that Christianity is in any real sense its fulfillment, has marked Christianity in itself as a religion apart.

Persecution and mistreatment of Jews by communities nominally Christian, but actually betrayers of Christian spirit and teaching has historically emphasized the separation; but the Hebrew Scriptures have always had their inherent place in the Christian's Bible, and in recent years there has been much friendly association between Jews and Christians and a recognition of much that they have in common.

The appearance a short time ago on a television quiz program of a Presbyterian minister and a Jewish rabbi, who share a common place of worship in New York, was a striking example of a closer relationship between Jews and Christians.

Even more than the appearance together of the rabbi and the minister was the fact that the Presbyterian chose Judaism as his category, while the rabbi chose Christianity. Both successfully answered all the questions offered them, to the winning of $8,000 for their religious work, at which point they quit the program. I emphasize the incident, because its implications for closer relations of mutual understanding can hardly be over stated.

I am rather proud of the fact that in a way I was a pioneer in this business of trying to establish better relations between Jews and Christians. Forty years ago, when I was minister of the First Congregational Church, in Hamilton, Ontario, I initiated friendly exchanges with Rabbi Joseph Minkin, scholar and author, who was then in that city. He spoke in my church. I spoke in his synagogue. And this was only a part of the association. I felt highly complimented

Only One of These Is Alive — But Dog Is Making Sure of It

Last December 4 J. A. (Red) Kennedy of Hope killed a bobcat south of Washington and gave it to the owner of the cat, who had it mounted by A. H. Allen, famed taxidermist of North Little Rock. In due time the mounted cat was brought back to Hope and the cat was in a spare room while blinking up the possibilities of a picture of his "house" meeting the dog.

The picture was finally made last week. The dog, called from the kitchen, came around the corner and promptly froze. But that was all. A split second later his nose told him this was a phony, and he successfully ignored the whole business through succeeding photographs.

December 4, 1955, while south of Washington in the company of James Braden. She was a 20-pound female, about 8 years old, and was stalking a squirrel in a willow tree when the men spotted her. Ed Chambliss took the cat to the Allen taxidermy shop for the editor — and the latter brought it back to Hope last month.

DOROTHY DIX

Can't Find a Girl
No Longer Bashful
Wants to Enter Nursing

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My problem is this: The girls I like don't like me and the ones I don't like fall in love with me. My life for 20 years — has been a series of disappointments in love, either on one side or the other. I want to get married, have a home and family of my own. I am popular with boys and girls, come from a good family, have an excellent job and am good looking. I've been in love twice, but both girls turned around and married someone else. On the other hand, I am besieged for dates by girls I don't like.

I know this probably sounds conceited but I'm really presenting plain facts.

DEAR GIRLS: Fred didn't include his name or address, so don't bother to write.

DEAR FRED: You're the universal answer to a maiden's prayer, so it's certainly in the interest of the fair sex to get you into the right circulation. Could it be that you're the contrary type that always wants what it can't have? Perhaps if the young ladies who been responsive, they, too, would eventually married other men had have failed to win your heart. Now you regard them as the lost loves of your life.

Another reason for your romantic fiascos could be that you're too anxious to please those you like. Gals can be a bit wary of whirlwind courtships and often flee to swains a bit more subtle. Is is your trouble?

If you're looking for one perfect girl, and are basing your search on some perfect creature you have known, stop it. What's perfection for one man is poison for another. Look for someone who pleases you; don't judge external characteristics only. Give yourself a chance to know a girl, then woo her gently, and you should have no trouble finding the right one. Please send me a wedding announcement.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I've liked a boy for four months. He used to be very bashful, but not any more. He puts his arm around other girls and talks to them in a very familiar manner. Although I fight with him over this, he won't stop.

DEAR GRACE: The boy has embarked on the great adventure of getting along with girls. Once he overcame the bashfulness, his attitude took a sudden reverse turn and now he's a bit too brash. In time he'll settle down to a middle course. And in the meantime you'd better widen your circle of male acquaintances and make new boy friends. You are too young to concentrate on one.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'll graduate from high school next year and my ambition is to be a nurse. I've taken two pre-nursing tests and flunked both. It's not because I'm dumb, either. I'm in the upper third of my class and get consistently good marks. My parents want me to be a teacher. What would you suggest?

DEAR ELVIRA: You should when a member of his congregation told a member of mine, "Mr. Gilroy is a Jew at heart." From his standpoint it was the nicest thing he could say about me, and it offsets some less complimentary brickbats that have come my way.

When one thinks of world Christianity the record is not all to the good, nor all that Jesus would acknowledge in the religion that He founded.

But there is another side to it in a continuous succession of Christian faith and life which is truly Christian. Of this I mean to write in a continuing article.

BERLIN, Germany (UP) —An American mother said today she may go to Odessa and Moscow in an effort to find her son who had been missing for 13 years.

Mrs. Ida Mae Reitz-Stichnoth said she was told by the Soviet vice consul in East Berlin to write to Soviet President Klement Voroshilov.

She believes her son is being held in Russia as a slave laborer. "I may go to Moscow and Odessa to find the boy myself," she said.

Mrs. Reitz-Stichnoth came to Berlin May 14 after selling her house and offices in Fullerton, Calif., to finance a search for concrete evidence her son is alive.

Her son, T-Sgt. Lawrence Edward Reitz, was a crew member of a U.S. Army Air Corps "Liberator" bomber that failed to return from a raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Romania Aug. 1, 1943.

He was officially reported killed but Mrs. Reitz-Stichnoth claims she has pictures showing her fly-crash along with other downed bomber crews in a German prison camp.

MOSCOW (UP) —The name of former Premier Josef Stalin was removed today from the city's largest factory, the Moscow auto works.

A decree of the central committee of the Communist party and the council of ministers renamed the factory for Ivan A. Likhachev, Russian Republic minister of automobile construction and highways who died Sunday.

SOURCE OF OUR FREEDOM

Nearly two centuries ago in the fateful course of human events Liberty was born. With justifiable pride we declared our Independence... Liberty and the rights of all men. The spiritual aspect of the proposition of freedom, equality and justice for all was fundamental in the development of these new ideas. Liberty loving fathers, possessed of unyielding faith and vital religious convictions supplied the genius. Before a government could be founded on the brotherhood of man... there had to be the Fatherhood of God. Then let us preserve this freedom through eternal vigilance, unceasing prayer and unflinching faith. Independence... the Fourth of July. Let us ever remember the source of our freedom... The Book. A-Men.
